

Mediterranean Residence

 Maitama, Abuja

This house boasts of large open spaces, connection to the exterior, and the luxury associated with the choice of entertaining a large number of guests.

The living accommodation is divided into separate sectors. The shared spaces are designed to bring family and friends together, while the private areas allow the property's owners to rest and relax in more secluded settings at the upper floor.

The generously sized rooms at the upper floor are still maintained with the natural light and ventilation. Having a house that breathes was very important at the onset of the project.

Although the lower level is associated with entertainment, carefully chosen decorative elements are used to ensure that the building still provides its occupants with the warmth and familiarity associated with domestic living.
